

Solutions for Insurance Regulators

Common Sense and Experience

Ingardus recognizes how decisions made on one side of the business affect the whole business. Regulators want to know exactly how a company is being run and what enterprise risks exist and whether the risks are being effectively mitigated and monitored. That information is not easily obtained. We know, based on our experiences, what questions to ask, information to review and processes and procedures to verify in order to evaluate the crux of the regulatory business issue. We operate in a respectful and efficient way and will not waste regulatory resources or the company's time on trivial matters.

Ingardus can produce results for insurance departments and consumers by using our knowledge and experience to solve regulatory issues. Some of our experiences, positions and credentials include serving in the following capacities:

- Administrative Law Judge for IDOI
- Board Member of Insurance Companies and Guaranty Association
- Certified Fraud Examiners
- Certified Captive Managers
- Chief Financial Officer
